Prevent Electrical Fires in Your Home

October is Fire Prevention Month, a perfect time to focus on preventing an electrical fire in your home. Follow these simple suggestions and stay safe year round:

- Daylight savings time ends November 1. As you set your clocks back, take time to check the batteries in smoke detectors.
- Inspect electric cords and replace them if they are damaged.
- Look for the UL (Underwriters Laboratories) label when purchasing appliances.
- Never use water on an electrical fire. Keep a fire extinguisher handy.
- Avoid running extension cords across walkways, doorways and under carpets.
- Never pull an electrical plug out by the cord.
- If you use a portable space heater, keep it at least 4 feet away from drapery and furniture, and place it on a non-flammable surface.
